To whom it may concern,

This is to confirm that Arthur GENTILS did his two-month internship in our company, DMS Destination Marketing Services*, in Sydney, Australia, from April to June 2016.

His tasks included database management, website updates and improvement, as well as marketing support in the line of electronic mail distribution, creation of sample destination itineraries and maintenance of the image gallery.

On a professional front, Arthur was an absolute delight to work with. His work ethic, his professionalism and creativity were impressive. Arthur is intelligent and managed to absorb the nature of all tasks handed to him, with no problem whatsoever. All of the above in addition to his strong character, are undoubtedly assets for his future professional career.

He has also shown a great sense of adaptability to a new culture and international working environment, which will prove very useful in his project to do his first year of master's degree abroad next year, whether in International Management or Marketing.

I can only recommend Arthur very highly, both for this project and for his future professional life. I would employ him again in a heart-beat.

Yours sincerely

MARISSA FERNANDEZ
Managing Director
